when she was cutting off Margaret's hair. Clementine did that because there was glue on Margaret's hair and Margaret told Clementine to cut her hair off.

Even though Clementine tries to help it doesn't always seem to help.

One way Clementine tries to help is by answering the phone calls for principal rice. This doesn't help because she was not supposed to because it is kinda like breaking the rules. The principal is supposed to do those things. When Clementine did this she ordered new school pets, she told the gym teacher there was no more dodgeball. And made two appointments for principal rice. During that, the 'phone' kept going dead which means she busted the phone.

There were a lot of times when Clementine tried to help someone and didn't succeed.

One time Clementine tried helping is when she tried to help Margaret with her hair. That shows that she didn't really help because in the book it said Clementine cut Margaret hair into bangs in the front of her head. Another time when Clementine tried to help was when she tried to help the principal.

That shows she didn't really help because she ordered school pets and a school isn't meant to have pets it is to learn.

One time clementine tried to help someone else is when Margaret had glue in her hair so clementine cut it off because Margaret told clementine to do it and if clementine didn't cut off Margaret's hair then Margaret would never be her friend.

Another time clementine tried to help someone else was she colored her and Margaret's hair then clementine cut off her own hair because margret didn't like her hair short is not the only one with short

There are 3 times clementine tried to help someone & made it worse. One way is when she tried to cut Margaret's hair & she made it even worse by cutting it all & that turned out bad. Another way is when clementine answered the principal's phone & ordered a bunch of things she wasn't supposed to order. That turned out really bad because principal ice was really mad. A last way is when clementine painted Margaret's hair and used her mother's marker (that she knows she isn't supposed to use) and her mom got really really mad at clementine. There you have it all the Reasons why Clementine tries to be helpful
