

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: MUSA * FOFAM

ELA Teacher: Amrae

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

A Noiseless Patient Spider BY WALT WHITMAN

A noiseless patient spider,

a point high of land

I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood isolated,

BY ITSELF/ALONE

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding,

SPIDER SPINNING A WEB

It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, out of itself,

exploring the environment
BY ITSELF ALONE

Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them.

Emphasize

repetition

NOT giving up

KEEP going none stop

And you O my soul where you stand,

↓
DETERMINED

* Surrounded, detached in measureless oceans of space, alone. spread word

Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them,

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold,

strong

Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul.

CONNECTION WITH SOMEONE

Soul is like

patient

a spider = connect with other people

Spider = something familiar, something to visualize

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.

² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.

³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.

⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

NF

Standard: RL.8.4 Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: Musa

ELA Teacher: Andrae

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

I think the author's message was to be silent doesn't mean to be isolated.

Walt Whitman message is a soul reaching out to connect with other people and set a light of hope. In the poem it says, "Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them" the poet talks about being patient and tirelessly speeding the soul and its here around the people. And uses the spider as something you can visualize and being determined. It also says "Make sure to make the connection of the spider's determination & the soul's yearning of connecting with other souls."

TTTTT

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: Isaiant

ELA Teacher: Andrade

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

MOOD

A Noiseless Patient Spider

BY WALT WHITMAN

A noiseless patient spider,

with legs beginning to form

I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood isolated,

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding,

explore alone

It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, out of itself,

Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them.

Spider is waiting for some place to stay

And you O my soul where you stand,

Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space,

ALONE, open space repeating keep trying

Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them,

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold,

Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul.

Comparing the spider with a soul
strong hold

Spider = something to visualize

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.

² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.

³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.

⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: Isaiah H

ELA Teacher: Artrade

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

The author's message is using spider to communication about the soul and how they do the same thing. This is shown in the text
"it coughed Ailement, Ailement, Ailement out it self" This shows that it making connections to make a house. Also in the poem it says
"throwing seeking the spheres to connect them" This shows that the soul and the spider need kinda the same thing.

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: Nakam

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

A Noiseless Patient Spider BY WALT WHITMAN

Mood: Hopeful

A noiseless patient spider,

↑ spider spinning the web

I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood isolated,

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding,

Exploring the space around the narrator

It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, out of itself,

Ever unreeling them; ever tirelessly speeding them.

↑ No giving up

↑ keeps trying to make the web

And you O my soul where you stand,

repetition

↑ consistent spider

Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space,

Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them,

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold,

draw out into a thin wire

Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul.

long open space

connection between somebody else

spider's delicate webs

↑ something very light

↑ thin = cobwebs

↑ The spider is calm hanging

Spider = something familiar

↑ something to visualize

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.

² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.

³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.

⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

3

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: Nalim

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

I think the author is sending a message to give an image about the son and how he connects to other people and not giving up. "Till the bridge you will need be found, till the ductile anchor hold." This explains and shows an image making a connection and the author shows a mood of (hopeful) because the son is not giving up on trying to find a living.

"explaining your quotes"

You used good details & evidence but put more details as to why it's not giving up & why it's hopeful

Persistent determined

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: Christian
Date: 4.4.19
CW: 7.13

ELA Teacher: _____

A Noiseless Patient Spider BY WALT WHITMAN

Disappointed to be alone in the world

A noiseless patient spider,

Spider spinning a web by itself alone

I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood isolated,

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding,

(Exploring it's environment)

It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, out of itself,

thread

emphasize

Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them.

Not Giving up

Repetition

keeps trying

And you O my soul where you stand,

alone, opened

Surrounded detached, in measureless oceans of space,

Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them,

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold,

strong

strong hold

hopeful

Till the gossamer thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul.

patient

connection with someone else

Spider web delight

endless

Spider = something familiar something to visualize

Soul is like a spider = connect with other peoples

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.

² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.

³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.

⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: Christina

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

~~I think the overall message of the poem is that the soul is like a spider trying to connect with other people. For example in the text it states, "I mark'd my soul somewhere else, till the bridge... catch mean that the spider/soul is patient even though it's not successful yet to start connecting with other people."~~

The overall message of the poem is that the soul is like a spider trying to connect with other people. For example in the text it states, "I mark'd my soul somewhere else, till the bridge... catch mean that the spider/soul is patient even though it's not successful yet to start connecting with other people."

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: Kanifah

ELA Teacher: Ms. Andrack

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

How would the meaning change?

A Noiseless Patient Spider BY WALT WHITMAN

A noiseless patient spider,

I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood isolated,

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding,

It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, out of itself,

Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them.

And you O my soul where you stand,

Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space,

Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres³ to connect them,

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold,

Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul.

Read stanza 1 find literal meaning.

Desperate = mood

might be go somewhere
As large body of water

Spider is spinning a web
Exploring its environment
The spider is exploring its surroundings

threadlike object

Repetition

Not giving up

keeps trying determined

alone/open space

other souls?
world
drawn

I think that the second stanza's about him connecting his soul to the spider ↳ he is comparing his soul to connection w/ soul

Delight

strong hold

soul is like a spider = connect with other people

MOOD:

★ Endless

Hopeful

spider = something familiar
★ something to visualize

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.

² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.

³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.

⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: Juniyah

ELA Teacher: Ms. Andrach

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

I think that the author's message of this poem is that your soul can have a strong desire or a strong want for something. I think that this is the theme because the poet compares his soul to a spider. He says that his soul is trying to hold on or to interact with other souls.

~~The author~~

The author's message of this poem is that your soul is something so abstract. When being compared to something so familiar to help us as readers visualize the resilience that our soul has. Walt Whitman uses a spider to communicate the message that the soul has a desire to connect with others. Whitman talks about a spider's persistence & determination. "It's launch's forward faith, filament, filament, filament out on itself." (Whitman 4). This connects to the soul because the soul keeps trying to connect with other souls. The soul doesn't give up, as wild as the spider.

~~The author talks about the spider's~~

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: Ke'Naiya Santos

ELA Teacher: Andrade

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

A Noiseless Patient Spider BY WALT WHITMAN

emphasizes to keep going. A noiseless patient spider, desperate.

the spider's alone

I mark'd where on a little promontory it stood isolated,

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding, exploring the environment to try to find a place to spin its web.

It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament out of itself, not giving up repitition.

Ever unreeling them, ever ceaselessly speeding them. keeps trying to spin the web (determined)

extended metaphor

spider on a high land making a cobweb. spinning a web.

And you O my soul where you stand, alone open space

* Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space.

Soul is like a spider = connect with other people.

person connection of someone. Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them, world.

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold, strong hold

Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul.

The author describing how there soul thin. patient

Mood - hopeful

* endless

spider -> something familiar / to visualize

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.

² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.

³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.

⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: Ke'Naiya Santos

ELA Teacher: Andrade

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

The author's message was to show the soul is strong and should never give up on anything you want/need to do. I know because he used a spider to compare and for the reader to find the message of the soul. "Till the gossamer thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul." The quote shows the author comparing a spider and a soul connecting with other people.

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: Jurnee

ELA Teacher: Andrade

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

emphasize spider spinning a web exploring environment to spin web

A Noiseless Patient Spider TOPIC

BY WALT WHITMAN

A noiseless patient spider, high land

I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood isolated,

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding,

It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, out of itself,

Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them.

And you O my soul where you stand,

Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space,

Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them,

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold,

Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul.

this stanza is literally about an spider being hidden in order to catch it's prey: the spider stood by itself. the web to catch it.

to catch it's prey? repetition keeps trying determined

it's soul stands out to the emptiness of space.

hopeful

soul is like a spider connect with other people

message: why use a spider Spider = something familiar

connect with someone thin delight

endless

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.

² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.

³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.

⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: Jurnelle

ELA Teacher: andrade

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

The author message was that the soul is too strong to give up to be giving up on anything. I know this is the message because she shows this by using repetition and metaphor
~~the author shows that~~ ~~she says "I'd~~

She used the image of an spider to help us under stand the message ~~she says~~ ~~"~~ "till the gossamer thread
you

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: Domina

ELA Teacher: Melissa

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

A Noiseless Patient Spider BY WALT WHITMAN

A noiseless patient spider,

I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood isolated

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding,

It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, out of itself,

Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them.

And you O my soul where you stand,

Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space,

Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them,

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold,

Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul

say itself alone emphasizing

The spider is marking its territory and launching thread to catch prey spider spinning a web exploring the environment repetition keeps trying determined

The soul is trying to connect with people till it find its feet home or spot like the spider

spider = something familiar something to visualize

to mark
res. peope might not get something mean connection

w/ soul

envelops

delight

patient

hopeful

strong hold

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.
² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.
³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.
⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: Donna

ELA Teacher: Androne

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

The author's message is the soul is like a spirit ~~trying~~ to feel comfortable and to connect with people and the environment.

The author's message is the soul is wandering all around, to connect with the world and people in a patient and a hopeful way. The author wrote, "... Hoping seeking the spheres to connect them." The author illustrates how the soul is determined eagerly to connect with its environment and hope around. Whitman wrote "Till the gossamer thread you fling catch some where, O my soul." The author shows how the soul is trying to stay hopeful until he find someone to connect. Which also shows the determination of the soul to fit in other places.

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: _____

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

needed

A Noiseless Patient Spider BY WALT WHITMAN

*desperate
: might not
of it*

A noiseless patient spider,

*A spider spinning a web -
exploring the environment*

I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood isolated.

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding,

It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, out of itself,

Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them.

And you O my soul where you stand,

Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space,

Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them,

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold,

Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul.

*Correction
w/ someone*

endless*

? where the spider stands

Soul like a spider - connect w/ other people

never

Spiders = something running / something to visualize

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.

² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.

³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.

⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: R. Winkler

ELA Teacher: M. Andrade

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

- 1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

The author's message was how lonely a soul could be of having no one by its side causing it to question where it belongs in society.

The author Walt uses repetition, it says "It launch'd forth filaments, filament, filament, out of itself."
The speller shows the determination of how it keeps on trying and not giving up. Walt says, "And you O my Soul!
where you stand, surrounded, detached, in me, sunless ocean of space." Throughout this whole poem Walt connects the speller to a soul because of how alone and opened the soul is willing to connect with someone.
Finally figure out where it stands in the endless sea with no other souls.

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: _____

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

A Noiseless Patient Spider

BY WALT WHITMAN

A noiseless patient spider,

I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood/isolated

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding,

It launch'd forth/fiber/threadlike filament, filament, filament, out of itself,

Ever unreeling them, ever/tirelessly/speeding them.

And you O my soul, where you stand,

Surrounded, detached, in/measureless oceans of space,

Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them,

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold with

Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul.

Spider spinning a web

Soul

desperate

shows that it's in danger something on if it was desperate expressing from its own headland

trying to find its place

It's about a spider making a cobweb.

Repetition to show the spinning

Keep making web

we can imagine it

Keeps trying/persistent/determined forever/always just a lot of space blocking it from

Other things or people

moldable connection uncertain

the person second stanza

hopeful

not pushing it just waiting not endless willing to wait

Soul is alone but making connections like a spider makes webs could be about how the spider is making a web to get to people

Soul very hard to describe so we need something similar something to visualize.

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.
² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.
³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.
⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: Michaela

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

I think the authors message is your soul is like a spider very quite but powerful and complex.

The author use imagery to convey the message of your soul is like a spider connecting with other people.

~~The authors message is your soul is like a spider creating a web to connect with other souls or people.~~
Your soul connects with others if theres a strong relationship. Whitman said, "Till the bridge you will need be formed, till the ductile anchor hold" (Whitman stanza 2). Your soul is connecting to others due to your relations with them. The soul isn't in a rush to connect with anyone. Whitman said, "Till the gossamer / here you find catch someone, O my Soul" (Whitman stanza 2). The soul is very particular on who it wants to connect with. But yet again isn't on a rush.

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: Rick

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

* something

A Noiseless Patient Spider BY WALT WHITMAN

A noiseless patient spider,

stuck
↑

I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood isolated,

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding,

It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, out of itself,

Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them.

repetition shows spider is repeatedly making spider webs

And you O my soul where you stand,

Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space,

Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them,

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold,

Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul.

The spider is making a bridge to land using its spider webs,

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.

² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.

³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.

⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: Rick _____

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

~~more~~ ~~more~~ ~~more~~ the other is comparing his soul to a spider stuck in the middle of large body of water, and it's making spider webs to get back to land. keep trying to get back where you need to be

Connections require determination in order to be created.
in the soul

Walt Whitman uses an extended metaphor to show that connections in the soul requires determination in order to be created. Whitman writes, "I launch'd forth filament, filament, filament, out of myself

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: Isaiah P.

ELA Teacher: Andrade

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

A Noiseless Patient Spider BY WALT WHITMAN

A noiseless patient spider,

I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood isolated,

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding,

It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, out of itself,

Ever unreeling them, ever firelessly speeding them.

And you up my soul where you stand,

Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space,

Ceaselessly musings, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them,

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile anchor hold,

Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul.

need desperate might not yet somewhere

exploring the environment
by itself

a spider making a cob web

emphasize keeps trying determined not giving up alone opened

A soul searching for these connections

connection
w/ someone delight

Headless

strong patient had narrow soul is like

spider = something familiar
something
visualize

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.

² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.

³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.

⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: Isaiah

ELA Teacher: Andrade

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

The message of the poem is to take your time to develop your dream.

The message of the poem is for a soul to connect with other's. In the poem it says,

It launched forth filament, filament, filament out of itself.
The author uses the ~~life~~ life of a spider trying to make their web like how a soul can connect to the world. In the poem it says, "musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect." The author uses the connection of the spider to the web and how it works.
→ - could add a second piece of evidence
- and elaborate on your message

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: Aaron

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

A Noiseless Patient Spider BY WALT WHITMAN

A noiseless patient spider, with

I mark'd where on a little promontory it stood isolated, by itself

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding, spider exploring environment

It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, out of itself, keeps trying to spin web

Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them.

And you O my soul where you stand,

Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space, alone open space

The spider

Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them,

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold,

spheres = soul firmly

Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul.

vitalize

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.

² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.

³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.

⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: Aaron

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

I think the message of the poem is that you should not stay in one place but explore the space around you.
and make connections.

From the bridge you will need to be formed till the ductile each of hold

The message of the poem is that you should make connections with other souls.
This can be proven on the 9th stanza where it says "From the bridge you will need to be formed till the ductile each of hold"
This means that the relationship should be strong like a bridge.
Another

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: Joshua Hughes

ELA Teacher: Andrew

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

A Noiseless Patient Spider

BY WALT WHITMAN

A noiseless ~~patient~~ ^{desperate} spider,

I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood isolated ^{emphasize by itself} spider spinning a web

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding, ^{exploring environment}

It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, ^{Thread} out of itself,

Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them. ^{repetition} ^{helps trying} ^{determined}

And you O my soul ^{not giving up} where you stand,

* Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space, ^{alone, alone} ^{but is like a spider = connect w/ other ppl}

Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them,

^{connections with someone} Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold,

Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere O my soul. ^{strong verb} ^{hopeful}

Spider = something familiar used

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.

² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.

³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.

⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: Josiah Hughes

ELA Teacher: Andrade

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

I think the author's message is that your soul is constantly trying to find something to latch onto.

I think the message is that a soul is like a spider and trying to connect with people. The author writes, "And you O my soul where you stand. Surrounded, detached in measureless oceans of space" (Whitman) This shows how the soul is like a spider trying to connect with other people.

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: _____

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

A Noiseless Patient Spider

BY WALT WHITMAN

A noiseless patient spider,

I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood isolated,

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding,

It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, out of itself,

Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them.

And you O my soul where you stand,

Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space,

Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them,

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold,

Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul.

make webs
webs = chain (connection)

Spider is spinning a thread web, exploring the environment

Persistent

alone

Spider → to soul

Soul connection

not bound to happen

Spider something familiar

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.

² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.

³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.

⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: Isaac Amozoll

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

The author's message is that the soul will continue to make outside connections to feel belonged

The author's message of this poem is that people will naturally continue to make connections. Even though we are not bound to make one. In the first stanza, Walt describes the lonely spider, effortlessly spinning webs. "Ever unreeling them, tirelessly speeding them." This image is used to show how our souls are determined to make connections. Then he compares the spider to a soul. "Venturing, seeking the spheres to connect them!" This is done to tell the readers...

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: Joseph D

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13 To 7.14

A Noiseless Patient Spider BY WALT WHITMAN

A noiseless patient spider,

I mark'd where on a little promontory it stood isolated,

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding,

It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, out of itself,

Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them.

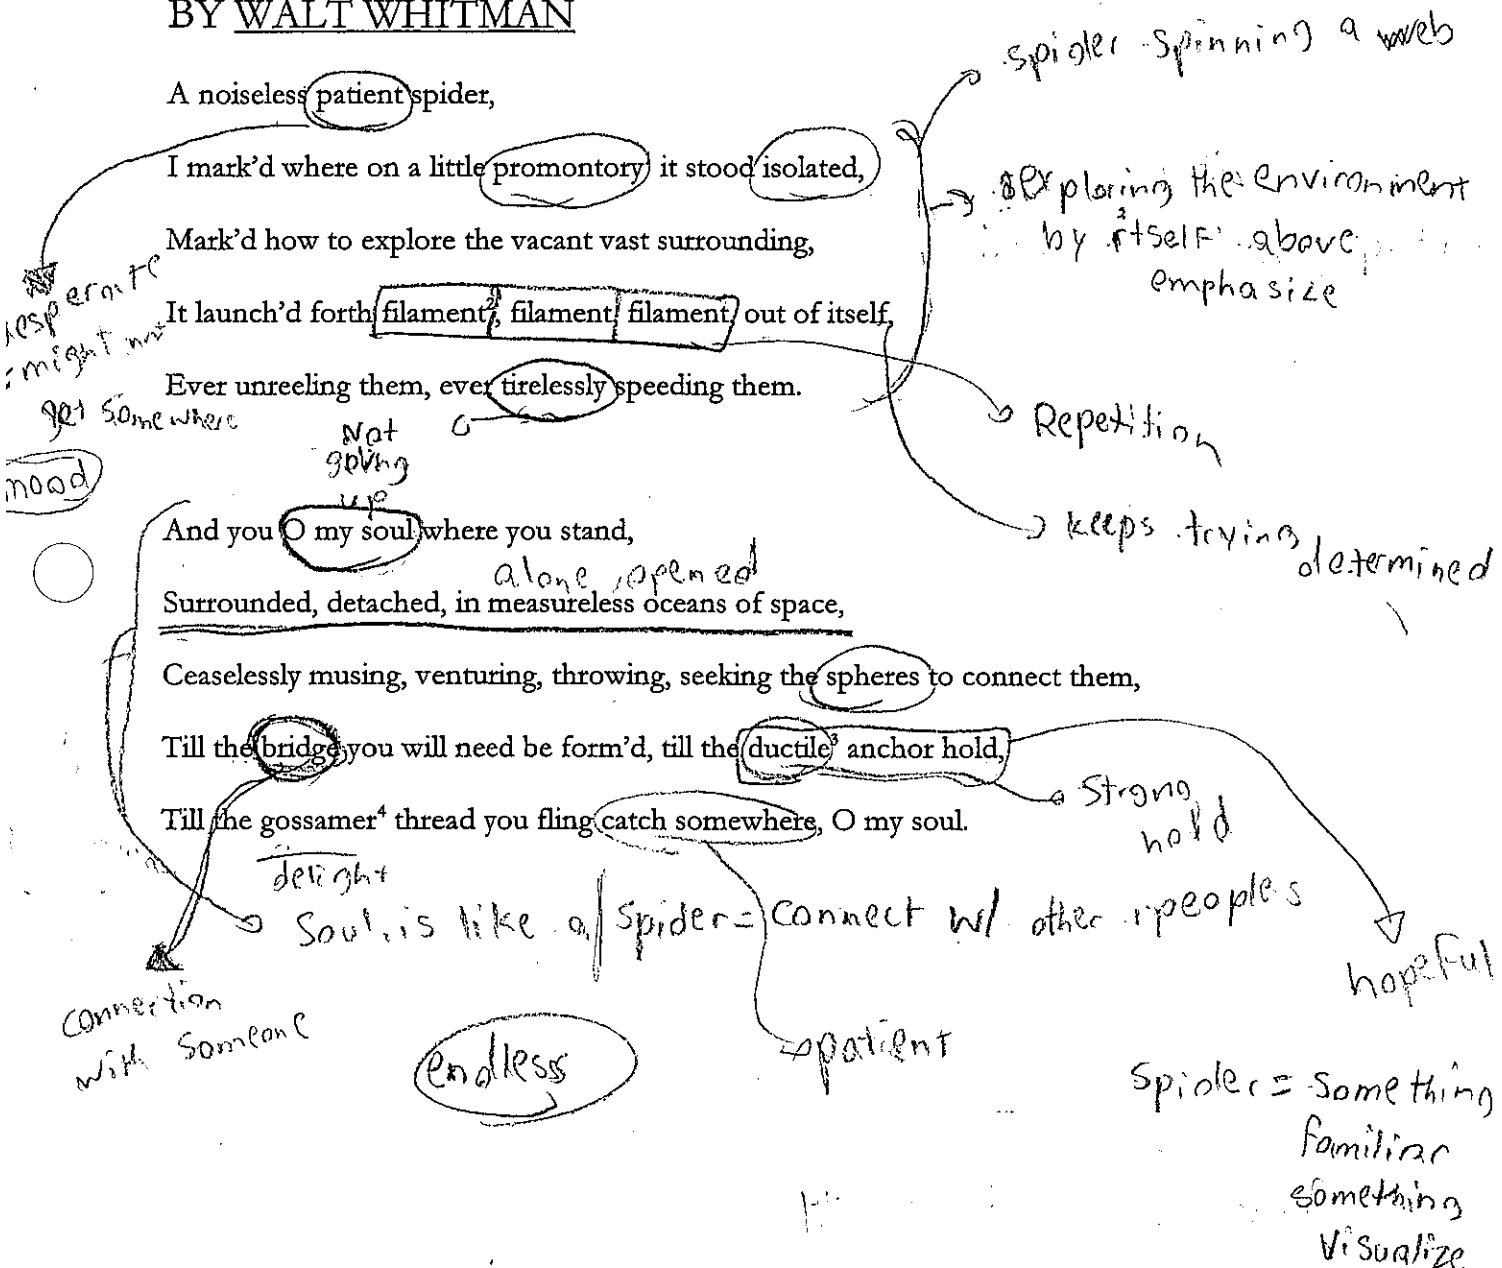

And you O my soul where you stand,

Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space,

Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them,

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold,

Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul.

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.

² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.

³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.

⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: Joseph

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

The author's ~~is~~ message is that no matter what comes on the way for you, the patient spider, you, soul

The message of this poem is that the soul is the spider connecting with other peoples. In the text it says, "Till the bridge you will need to be formed, till the ductile anchor hold," This is showing the soul as a spider connecting with other peoples as it's going on.

In the text it says, "surrounded, detached, in measureless ocean of space" This is showing the soul as a spider connecting with other peoples.

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: Laila Cayser

ELA Teacher: Andrade

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

A Noiseless Patient Spider BY WALT WHITMAN

1 A noiseless patient spider,

high word

emphasize

spider

2 I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood isolated,

exploring the environment

3 Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding,

4 It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, out of itself,

repetition

keeps trying persistent, determined

a noiseless desperate spider

5 Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them,

a spider making a web, by itself

6 And you O my soul where you stand,

7 Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space,

soul is like a spider - connect w/ other souls

8 Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them,

9 Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold, spiders = something familiar, something to visualize soul = something intell

10 Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul.

* endless
comparing the spider to the soul
patient

strong hold

wireful

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.

² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.

³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.

⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: Laila Gwyden

ELA Teacher: Andrade

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

THIS IS REALLY WRONG
↙

The author's message is that the soul compared to a spider is more trapped and surrounded. The spider can choose wherever it wants, but the soul has to choose one thing, and stick with it for the rest of their lives.

Revised Answer: Whitman is conveying that a soul searches for another, with hope, even though the journey seems endless. Whitman uses the imagery of a spider to compare to the soul. Whitman writes, "ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them." (line #8) The soul continues to search out, being persistent in their look. Adding on, Whitman writes, "Till the gossamer thread you findy catch somewhere, O my soul." (line 10) The search seems endless, but the soul is resilient enough to keep searching for another to connect to. In conclusion, Whitman is conveying that a soul searches for another, with hope, even though the journey seems endless.

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: Seriz

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

A Noiseless Patient Spider BY WALT WHITMAN

A noiseless patient spider,

Spinner a web

A spider is getting ready by itself to start travelling.

meaning would change bc desperation can cause failure

I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood isolated,

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding,

It launch'd forth ^{thread} filament², ^{keeps trying} filament, ^{exploring} filament, out of itself, ^{to find} perfect spot

Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them.

determined repetition

not giving up

And you O my soul where you stand,

emphasizing loneliness

Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space,

Narrator telling spider to not give up until it is finished

Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them,

never stopping

connection

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold,

bridge must be strong to stay connected

Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere O my soul

endless patient

Soul is like a spider making a web. Your soul is trying to connect with others hopeful mood

Something familiar in spiders, something to visualize for the comparison of souls

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.

² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.

³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.

⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: Schulz

ELA Teacher: Andrade

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

Souls are like spiders, forever moving and travelling, they are patient though.

↗
Add about connections

In the poem "A noiseless patient spider," Walt Whitman develops the theme of "souls are like spiders, trying patiently to make a connection. In the poem it says, 'Suspended, detached in measureless oceans of space.' At first a spider and a soul are alone. A spider has no web and a soul has no connections. The soul and the spider go on a journey to find those things. Also, in the poem, it says, 'till the bridge you will need be formed.'" This means that as the soul and spider work, they won't stop. They show resilience and hopefulness until they make the connections that they need.

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: WLS Morillo

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

Need → Hopeful

A Noiseless Patient Spider

BY WALT WHITMAN

A noiseless patient spider,

I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood (isolated)

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding,

It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, out of itself,

Ever unreeling them, ever (tirelessly) speeding them.

And you O my soul where you stand,

Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space,

Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them,

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold,

Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul.

spinning exploring environment is alone

KEEP trying → present

NOT giving up

soul in the same place as spider marking a web

SOUL is like a spider connection to other people

Spider → something to visualize what a soul could be

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.

² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.

³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.

⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

They spider is looking over a large ocean

the spider is missing to put their home/web

To show is looking for a worm

spider a web

repetition

KEEP trying

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: WIS MOON

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

The message is that no matter how small you are, you can still explore.
no

Revised Theme: The theme is that a soul is like a spider, it journeys around to find a home, and to find connections. Whitman writes, "wiseless patient spider." The spider is patient because it's looking around for a place to put its web. The soul looks around to find connections with people. Whitman also writes, "thread you find catch someone." The spider is trying places that could be their home. The soul tries different places to make connections.

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: Destinee

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

A Noiseless Patient Spider BY WALT WHITMAN

* mood change

keeps trying connection is strong

patient

perseverance isolation web

hopeful

still tough

the soul is on a journey

detemend

A noiseless patient spider, describing the spider
I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood isolated, emphasis. the spider is alone,
Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding, repetition
It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, out of itself, ITS WEB
Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them. doesn't get tired NOT giving up.

And you O my soul where you stand, *SOUL = SPIDER  Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space, like sphere.
Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them, detemend
Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold, still tough.
Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul. the soul is on a journey.

Spider = something familiar/ something to visualize.

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.
² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.
³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.
⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: Destinee

ELA Teacher: Andrade

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

The message is that the soul can have its different journeys, and can be like a isolated spider.

New response

The authors message is that a soul can be compared to a spider. In the poem it says "It launch'd forth filament, filament, filament out of itself!"

This quote describes how the spider uses its web to move forward, and to keep going. This connects to the soul because the soul is using its "webs" to go on that journey, and discovery. The poem says "Till the gossamer thread you fling catch somewhere"; This is using the spider to describe the soul because a soul is using its "web" to go on the discovery.

Pen

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: Emeni

ELA Teacher: Andrae

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

A Noiseless Patient Spider

BY WALT WHITMAN

A noiseless patient spider,

- a spider is spinning a web

- Exploring its environment

- Spider is alone

I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood isolated, done

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding,

It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, out of itself,

thread

Repetition

Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them.

And you O my soul where you stand,

Talking about a soul

- a soul trying to connect to something

- Your soul is like a spider making a

Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space

web

Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them,

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold,

*Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul.

*mood was to stay hopeful

*Connection between the soul and somebody else.

*The soul and spider is willing to wait, so that it can connect to something.

*You have to be careful with a spider web and be patient. Also you have to have hope with finding a connection.

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.

² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.

³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.

⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

*spider = something to visualize.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: Emoni

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

The authors message is that just like spiders, souls will make a connection until a mark is made.

~~The new mess~~

The message of the poem is that just like a spider, souls have to find something to connect to. They have to stay hopeful because just like a spider web its very thin and you have to be patient with it. In lines 1-4 in the last stanza it says, "Till the bridge you will need to be formed till the ductile anchor hold." using the ~~personification~~ ^{simile} of the spider to represent the soul, shows that for a soul to connect with a human it has to be patient, hopeful, and careful with it.

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: Edwin

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

A Noiseless Patient Spider BY WALT WHITMAN

A noiseless patient spider, mood.

I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood isolated,

SPIDER SPINNING

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding,

a WEB.

It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, out of itself,

etc

Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them.

EXPLORE THE ENVIRONMENT.

And you O my soul where you stand,

Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space,

Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them,

TRYING TO CONNECT WITH EVERYONE

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold,

Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul.

HOPEFUL.

endless.

SPIDER = SOMETHING FAMILIAR, SOMETHING TO VISUALIZE.

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.

² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.

³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.

⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: E. Davis

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

THE MESSAGE IS THE SPIDER IS TRYING TO FIT IN.

THE MESSAGE IN THE TEXT WAS
YOU HAVE TO BE PATIENT WITH TRYING TO DO SOMETHING. IN THE POEM IT TALKS ABOUT HOW A SPIDER IS LOST AT SEA,
BUT IS PATIENT ABOUT ~~RECONNECTING~~ IS CONNECTING WITH EVERYONE LOST. (A NOISY PATIENT SPIDER). THE SPIDER ACTUALLY REPRESENTS A SOUL TRYING TO CONNECT ^{BUT} ~~BECAUSE~~ ISN'T TRYING TO RUSH ANYTHING.

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: Daniela McNeil

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

How would I change
if it were desperate rather than patient?

A Noiseless Patient Spider

BY WALT WHITMAN

TOPIC → something familiar to visualize soul

A noiseless patient spider, Mood:

Emphasize
the fact that it's Alone

Literal Meaning:
A spider is standing on land, creating a web.

I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood isolated,

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding, EXPLORE environment

It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, out of itself, creating webs → keeps trying, persistent/determined

Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them.

Not giving up

And you O my soul where you stand,

Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space,

lots of space / alone wound

meaning: Your soul is like a lonely spider, trying to make connections with other souls

Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them,

strong/rough

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold,

connection
to another soul has to be strong

Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul.

delicate webs → patience w/ delicate things to build up to strong relationships *endless → soul & spider willing to wait for that connection

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.

² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.

³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.

⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: DA'NIAN McNEIL

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

Wait Whitman's ~~the author's~~ message is that ~~strong~~ souls need to have strong relationships, along with ~~the~~ need to have patience, to create strong relationships. To ~~represent~~ symbolise the ~~new~~ connection, Whitman used the imagery of a bridge, "Till the bridge you will need be formed, till the ductile anchor hold,". This shows that if the ~~the~~ soul is able to make a ~~strong~~ connection, it needs to be as stable as a bridge. Whitman also used ~~had to~~ the imagery of a patient spider to help the readers visualize the soul. Whitman wrote, "It'd launch forth filament, filament, filament, out of itself." This ~~was~~ conveyed that the ~~author's~~ soul, like the spider, is continuously ~~drawn~~ searching and trying to make those connections. The repetition also emphasized the fact that the soul is never giving up. be able to hold his own.

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: Kayla S.

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

A Noiseless Patient Spider

BY WALT WHITMAN

A noiseless patient spider,

I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood isolated,

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding,

It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, out of itself,

Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them.

And you O my soul where you stand, Can't find poem

Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space,

Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them, making web shape

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold,

Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul.

poem

keep going is important

doing of high land that juts out into a large body of water

Spider spinning a web

hasn't found perfect spot yet

repetition

not giving up

going fast alone, open

connections have to be strong

refer to something light

* endless

Patient to find a catch

Spider = something familiar, something to visualize

keeps building

hopeful

Soul is like spider b/c try to connect

Doesn't know it it'll find a connection but it's hopeful & patient that it will

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.

² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.

³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.

⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: Kayla S.

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

- 1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

I think the message was that the little things matter, but I don't really know

2 evidence

Message: The

~~I think that the~~ author's message is that you need to stay patient and hopeful even though the chance are slim. The author, Walt Whitman shows this message especially in the 2nd stanza. As Whitman writes, "thread you fling catch somewhere," (Whitman, 10). He's showing how the spider is still patient knowing that he might never ever catch the thread but that doesn't matter. Another way Whitman conveys this message is by using the ← Soil in line 6. He is describing how the soil just like a spider ~~year~~ years to make a connection with someone and it'll be patient & hopeful for as long as it has to.

"Mark 'd how to escape the voracious vast surrounding" (Whitman, 3)

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: Kasaan

ELA Teacher: Andrade

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

A Noiseless Patient Spider BY WALT WHITMAN

A noiseless patient spider,

I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood isolated,

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding,

It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, out of itself,

Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them.

And you O my soul where you stand,

Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space,

Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them,

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold,

Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul.

mood *

desperate

Spider is stuck

repetition

exploring its environment

* Spider spinning a web
* still?

a spider is moving around in its natural habit, shooting silk out of its body to create a web for themselves

not giving up

alone open space

by itself
keeps trying (determined)

this stanza could be talking about the perspective of how the spider actually feels when stuck in this promontory

filaments

patient

holding strong your soul is like a spider connecting with other people

Something familiar ↔ Something to visualize = SPIDER

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.
² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.
³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.
⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: Kasaan

ELA Teacher: Andrade

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

I think that the author's message of this poem is that spiders can be a beautiful thing. People overlook small creatures as without a purpose. I think that this is the message because in the poem, it says that "[a] noiseless patient spider.... launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, out of itself" and "unraveling" it's soul.

The author's message of "A Noiseless Patient Spider" is ~~to~~ to connect a spider to something familiar and something to visualize. Walt Whitman creates this message through ~~making~~ ^{of a soul} making connections of imagery and repetition. The author says that a spider constantly shoots out "filament², filament, filament" to weave the bonds between ~~webs~~ ^{people} (Whitman stanza 1). The spider isn't actually doing this... ~~it's the connection~~ ^{the soul is making the connection} between people that represent's the spiders webs. The soul is "seeking the spheres to connect them," as the spheres represent the souls of the people being connected, (Whitman stanza 2).

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: _____

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

A Noiseless Patient Spider

BY WALT WHITMAN

A noiseless patient spider,

I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood isolated,

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding,

It launch'd forth filament², filament (filament) out of itself,

Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them.

And you O my soul where you stand,

Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space,

Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them.

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold,

Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul.

The meaning would change if it was desperate when the spider would not stay or try endless, but soul and spider are willing to wait alone/emphasize

*Spider explores it's environment

*Literal meaning: A spider is shooting out webs repetition / keeps trying / persistent resilient

alone / open space

*LM - The spider finally finds the place to put its web world (filament)

connection w/ others

Soul = spider
↓
connect w/ others
↓
make web

*patience

*Mood: hopeful

soul's connection has to be stronger

*Why use a spider - needed something familiar to help visualize a soul.

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.

² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.

³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.

⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: Deborah

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

- 1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

The author's message is that a spider spins its web with stealth and crafts it patiently. Spiders take the process seriously and does it with grace.

★ The author uses an extended metaphor of the soul and a spider to convey his message that a soul like a spider searches to make connections endlessly.

A spider, "launched forth filament, filament, filament, out of itself." The spider image shows how spiders show out webs to connect into a cobweb. A soul is just the same, "venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them." A soul is invisible, so the image of a spider helps to show a soul's endless journey to make connections with others. Souls have a purpose like a spider to branch out to other people and places

Standard: RL.8.3. Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story, poem, or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.

Name: Gabriel

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

CW: 7.13

A Noiseless Patient Spider BY WALT WHITMAN

A noiseless patient spider,

I mark'd where on a little promontory¹ it stood isolated,

Mark'd how to explore the vacant vast surrounding,
secretly

It launch'd forth filament², filament, filament, out of itself,

Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them.

How the spider is starting to make its web
exploring its environment
away from the world trying over

And you O my soul where you stand,

Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space,

Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them,

Till the bridge you will need be form'd, till the ductile³ anchor hold,

Till the gossamer⁴ thread you fling catch somewhere, O my soul.

very lonely and out in the open trying to find other people

patience

Soul is like a spiders web

endless

Spider = something familiar and to visualize

¹ Promontory- a point of high land that juts out into a large body of water; a headland.

² Filament- a slender threadlike object or fiber, especially one found in animal or plant structures.

³ Ductile- able to be drawn out into a thin wire; able to be deformed without losing toughness; pliable, not brittle.

⁴ Gossamer- used to refer to something very light, thin, and insubstantial or delicate; a fine, filmy substance consisting of cobwebs spun by small spiders, seen especially in autumn.

Standard: RL.8.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning, tone, or mood, including the impact of allusion and irony.

Name: Gabriel

ELA Teacher: _____

Date: 4.4.19

DN: 7.13

Poetry Schema Check: (LP 7.13)

Directions: Read and answer the questions that follow.

1.) What do you think is the author's message and how do you know?

That your soul can bind together people in your community. The author was using his soul as a spider web/patient quiet spider.

The author creates the function...

X: That your soul can bind together connections in your life and community. The reason he shows this is by using a hopeful, tireless, patient spider of when it's making it's web. "Ever unraveling them ever tirelessly speeding them." Also the text says, "Till the bridge you will need be farred, till the ductile anchor hold." This talks about how the bridge is your path to your connections and that it should stay strong.

Bottom Line

add analysis to the end of your quotes.

The spider/soul is determined to find a connection to bind their life.