

Word Application 5

NAME: _____

Part 1: Connotations

Is infraction a word with positive, negative, or neutral connotation?Conclusion: negative

Part 2: Synonyms and Antonyms

Generate as many synonyms as you can for the word, "evaluate."

solve / judge / observe / analyze

Part 3: Antonyms

Generate as many antonyms as you can for the word, "credible."

credible / trustworthy

Part 4

Directions: write a sentence that shows you know the meaning of the word using two different parts of speech. This may require you to alter the form of the word.

1. assumption
noun	I have an assumption that I will pass verb	I can assume that I will get a A+

2. indictment

noun- verb	I got indicted for fraud verb (past tense) noun	I give an indictment to the teacher

3. litigation

noun verb	I litigated the President for verb- noun

4. evaluate

noun	I did an evaluation on a patient
verb (future tense)	I will evaluate the patient's heart.

Word Application 6

Describe how the words paired in each box are related.

WORDS	Explain how the words are related.
evaluate credibility	Judges evaluate people to see if they have credibility scurry hasten	Popl most fast.
prescription transcribe	doctors transcribe popl's Prescription.
prediction assumption	I made another prediction of Shivers's outcome.
deport divert	moving things
agoraphobia solace	Popl who have a phobia need solace
futuristic postwar	both in the future
nonchalant indifferent	Popl don't care about anything correction rectify	both correct something evidence indictment	Popl need evidence for an indictment

Word Application 5

NAME: _____

Part 1: ConnotationsIs infraction a word with positive, negative, or neutral connotation?Conclusion: *neutral, negative (broken law)*Part 2: Synonyms and Antonyms*less serious*

Generate as many synonyms as you can for the word, "evaluate."

*check conclude*Part 3: Antonyms*look*

Generate as many antonyms as you can for the word, "credible."

lie fake not-trustuntrustworthy

Part 4

Directions: write a sentence that shows you know the meaning of the word using two different parts of speech. This may require you to alter the form of the word.

1. assumption
noun	To draw an assumption be sure to not lie verb	I assumed that I would get a 100% on math

2. indictment

oun	The indictment was all over the news erb (past tense)	A bad person just got indicted

3. litigation

un	litigations are serious
rb	I learned that judges litigate yesterday

4. evaluate

in	To evaluate, make no assumptions
b (future tense)	I will evaluate the work soon

Word Application 6

Describe how the words paired in each box are related.

WORDS	Explain how the words are related.
evaluate credibility	evaluate credible people scurry hasten	both use speed prescription transcribe	have to transcribe w/ your doctor to get a prescription prediction assumption	they both make guesses deport divert	they both send agoraphobia solace	give solace to ppl w/ agoraphobia futuristic postwar	postwar is futuristic to people in the war nonchalant indifferent	both are neutral, not caring
correction rectify	both correct something
evidence indictment	you have to have evidence to prove indictment

Word Application 5

NAME: _____

Part 1: Connotations

s infraction a word with positive, negative, or neutral connotation?

Conclusion: negative

Part 2: Synonyms and Antonyms

Generate as many synonyms as you can for the word, "evaluate."

Solve/Judge/observe/analyze

Part 3: Antonyms

Generate as many antonyms as you can for the word, "credible."

Un-belief/untrustworthy

Part 4

Directions: write a sentence that shows you know the meaning of the word using two different parts of speech. This may require you to alter the form of the word.

1. assumption
noun	I have an assumption that I will get perfect. verb	I can assume that I will get perfect.

2. indictment

noun		I gave an indictment to the teacher verb (past tense)		I got indicted for fraud.

3. litigation

noun		I have a litigation on the president verb		I litigated the president for fraud

4. evaluate

noun		I did an evaluation on a patient
verb (future tense)		I will evaluate the patient's heart

Word Application 6

Describe how the words paired in each box are related.

WORDS	Explain how the words are related.
evaluate credibility	judges evaluate ppl to see if they have credibility scurry hasten	ppl move fast prescription transcribe	doctors transcribe ppl's prescription prediction assumption	I made another prediction of someone's assumption
deport divert	moving things
agoraphobia solace	ppl who have agoraphobia need solace
futuristic postwar	both in the future
nonchalant indifferent	ppl don't care about anything
correction rectify	both correct something
evidence indictment	ppl need evidence for an indictment

Word Application 5

NAME: _____

Part 1: ConnotationsIs infraction a word with positive, negative, or neutral connotation?

Conclusion:

Part 2: Synonyms and Antonyms

Generate as many synonyms as you can for the word, "evaluate."

Solve, Judge, Critique,

Part 3: Antonyms

Generate as many antonyms as you can for the word, "credible."

Untrustworthy
unloyal
part 4

Directions: write a sentence that shows you know the meaning of the word using two different parts of speech. This may require you to alter the form of the word.

1. assumption
noun	I have an assumption that you are lying verb	I assumed that she was lying

2. indictment

noun	I got indicted for fraud
verb (past tense)	I gave an indictment to the teacher

3. litigation

noun
verb

4. evaluate

noun
verb (future tense)

Word Application 6

Describe how the words paired in each box are related.

WORDS	Explain how the words are related.
evaluate credibility	You judge a persons credibility carefully scurry hasten	to move People move fast while down both to move to hasten when the survey prescription transcribe	You have to transcribe the prescription prediction assumption	You make a prediction based of your assumption deport divert	They are both moving agoraphobia solace	Both People who need have agoraphobia need solace futuristic postwar	They are the same nonchalant indifferent correction rectify
evidence indictment

Word Application 5

NAME: _____

Part 1: Connotations

Is infraction a word with positive, negative, or neutral connotation?

Conclusion: negative

Part 2: Synonyms and Antonyms

Generate as many synonyms as you can for the word, "evaluate."

Judge

Part 3: Antonyms

Generate as many antonyms as you can for the word, "credible."

fake lie

Part 4

Directions: write a sentence that shows you know the meaning of the word using two different parts of speech. This may require you to alter the form of the word.

1. assumption
noun	I made an assumption that the guy was clean verb	I assume that tomorrow will be better

2. indictment

noun	the judge gave the cereal killer a written paper for murder verb (past tense)	the police arrest the man of hitting a police of person

3. litigation

noun	the lawyer brought a case and said this person was quite verb	the plaintiff is prepared to litigate

4. evaluate

noun	I vote at the new girl and she does badly
verb (future tense)

but none agreed

Word Application 6

scribe how the words paired in each box are related.

WRDS	Explain how the words are related.
evaluate credibility	you are judging someone's ability to be trusted scurry hasten	you are moving with a quick pace prescription transcribe	They both include writing something prediction assumption	They both include thinking something before hand deport divert	you are moving something agoraphobia solace	someone can comfort you to relieve your fear of public places futuristic postwar	They include something that happens after the present nonchalant indifferent	you are not caring about a situation correction rectify	to fix a problem; giving it a solution evidence indictment	to prove the charge you have to have an oral, written, data that proves the charge is capable of being true

List 14:

Word Application 5

NAME: _____

Part 1: Connotations

Is infraction a word with positive, negative, or neutral connotation?

Conclusion: neutral connotation

Part 2: Synonyms and Antonyms

Generate as many synonyms as you can for the word, "evaluate."

some, estimate, analyze

Part 3: Antonyms

Generate as many antonyms as you can for the word, "credible."

guilty, not innocent, liar, not able to be trusted

Part 4

Directions: write a sentence that shows you know the meaning of the word using two different parts of speech. This may require you to alter the form of the word.

1. assumption
noun	making the assumption is not worthy of being credible harped as verb	to assume someone's background but allowed due to possible

2. indictment

noun	1 one am going to make a indictment for stealing verb (past tense)	To indict is when someone is doing illegal activities

3. litigation

noun	Sarah and Kellenin litigation was for fish tank verb	Let us litigate your rights to work

4. evaluate

noun	To evaluate is to see clear and voice evidence verb (future tense)	The evaluation are scheduled.

Word Application 6

Describe how the words paired in each box are related.

WORDS	Explain how the words are related.
evaluate credibility	Someone is new to believe if something is to have scurry hasten	They all at have to do with running.
prescription transcribe	To write to prediction assumption	make a guess deport divert	was to do with moving / changing agoraphobia solace	feeling of relief futuristic postwar	Something that with happen later in time nonchalant indifferent	Both describe someone who does not care much.
correction rectify	have to do w/ fixing evidence indictment	To prove clear and have proof

14:

Word Application 5

15: Feeling

1: Connotations

fraction a word with positive, negative, or neutral connotation?

clusion:

Neutral connotation

2: Synonyms and Antonyms

erate as many synonyms as you can for the word, "evaluate."

Give others advice.

3: Antonyms

erate as many antonyms as you can for the word, "credible."

guilt

4

Directions: Write a sentence that shows you know the meaning of the word using two different parts of speech. This may require you to alter form of the word.

1. assumption
in	I will be an assumption about here.
b	I assume two people are going.

2. indictment

un
rb (past tense)	I argued to make an indictment for state -o indictment when someone does this

3. litigation

un
b	litigation. Case when litigation was for let us take your wife to court.

4. evaluate

un
b (future tense)	to evaluate is to see whether or not The evaluation the judge is

Word Application 6

cribe how the words paired in each box are related.

DS	Explain how the words are related.
evaluate	Someone's friend of five credibility	They can't have to do with Penny scurry	to write something down hasten	an objection
prediction	movement to make things transcribe	both have spaces deport	Someone who is 100 divert	descends someone not equally geophobia	making something out with fear solace	to have self aware then futuristic postwar onchalant ndifferent orrection rectify evidence dictament

Word Application 5

ME: Wifred1: Connotations

Ifraction a word with positive, negative, or neutral connotation?

clusion: Negative2: Synonyms and Antonyms erate as many synonyms as you can for the word, "evaluate."

Solve, answer, product.3: Antonyms erate as many antonyms as you can for the word, "credible."

not trustworthy, fake 4

actions: Write a sentence that shows you know the meaning of the word using two different parts of speech. This may require you to alter form of the word.

1. assumption
in	Assumption lead to misinformation
b	Don't assume who somebody truly is.

2. indictment

un.	The indictment against the CEO was very serious
rb (past tense)	he had gotten indicted

3. litigation

un	Litigations are hard to go through without good evidence.
rb	the litigating firms had without evidence

4. evaluate

un	I evaluate the reliability of people
b (future tense)	I will evaluate the defendant's credibility

Word Application 6

scribe how the words paired in each box are related.

Words	Explain how the words are related.
evaluate credibility	Judging somebody's ability to be trusted scurry hasten	Moving with quick pace/ movement prescription transcribe	Involving writing something prediction assumption	Both involving a guess deport divert	Moving something agoraphobia solace	Experiencing fear of public places.
futuristic postwar	You can talk about a time of war in the future nonchalant indifferent	Not caring about something correction rectify	Both correcting something evidence indictment	You can use evidence in a indictment.

Word Application 5

ME: _____

t 1: Connotations

fraction a word with positive, negative, or neutral connotation?

clusion:

t 2: Synonyms and Antonyms erate as many synonyms as you can for the word, "evaluate."

*Solve
Judge deeply*

t 3: Antonyms

erate as many antonyms as you can for the word, "credible."

t 4

ections: write a sentence that shows you know the meaning of the word using two different parts of speech. This may require you to alter form of the word.

1. assumption
un	my assumption was wrong th	Did you assume i'm a girl

2. indictment

in	The reporters interviewed the plaintiffs after the indictment
b (past tense)	the grand jury indicted the him

3. litigation

in	the litigation was costly
b	they agreed to litigate all disputes

4. evaluate

in	the surveillance caused a murder b (future tense)

Word Application 6

Describe how the words paired in each box are related.

WORDS	Explain how the words are related.
evaluate credibility	trust
scurry hasten	Run
prescription transcribe
prediction assumption
deport divert
agoraphobia solace	it's for SS futuristic postwar
nonchalant indifferent	calm correction rectify	fixing
evidence indictment

Word Application 5

NAME: Jaymicha

Part 1: Connotations

Is infraction a word with positive, negative, or neutral connotation?Conclusion: It is negative

Part 2: Synonyms and Antonyms

Generate as many synonyms as you can for the word, "evaluate."

assess judge rate estimate

Part 3: Antonyms

Generate as many antonyms as you can for the word, "credible."

Part 4 guilty suspicious

Directions: Write a sentence that shows you know the meaning of the word using two different parts of speech. This may require you to alter the form of the word.

1. assumption
noun	The my assumption was wrong.
verb	I assume the median

2. indictment

in	reporter interviewed the person after the indictment
b (past tense)	the jury indicted him

3. litigation

in	The litigation was costly
b	They agreed to litigate all disputes

4. evaluate

n	the jury evaluated the court case
b (future tense)	the jury evaluated the court case

Word Application 6

Describe how the words paired in each box are related.

WORDS	Explain how the words are related.
evaluate credibility	trust
scurry hasten	your speeding
prescription transcribe
prediction assumption
deport divert
agoraphobia solace	distress
futuristic postwar
nonchalant indifferent	your acting calm correction rectify	it is because you are fixing something evidence indictment	